

Centenary Snippets

Swimming Carnivals

Swimming lessons have always had an important place within the school curriculum. We realise how important it is for all children to feel safe in the water and to save themselves if they ever found themselves in difficulties. It is only in more recent years that swimming carnivals have been held. Our carnivals have always had a focus on maximum participation for all students. They incorporate both competitive and less intensive but highly enjoyable activities. When there are enough staff members willing to take a dive, students enjoy the teachers versus students' races that capture the enthusiasm of the whole school.

It is very rewarding to watch individual progress of students from one year to the next at our carnivals.

